The sensitive nature of cash demands strong internal control procedures. Fund sponsors and other individuals with duties affecting the funds shall become familiar with and assume compliance with the portions of the Policy & Procedure Manuals which are pertinent to their duties. Such individuals shall deal with the finance department in a sincere spirit of cooperation, performing their functions in a complete, accurate and timely manner. These individuals are initially responsible for the solvency of the fund account and the propriety of the activity. Final responsibility lies with the Chief Financial Officer.
